[A]O flower of Scotland

When will we[E7] see Your like a[A]gain

That[D] fought and[A] died for

Your[E7] wee bit hill and[A] glen

[D]And stood a[A]gainst him

Proud Edward's[D] army

And[A] sent him homeward

Tae[E] think a[A]gain

The [A]hills are bare now

And autumn [E7]leaves lie thick and [A]still

O'er [D]land that is [A]lost now

Which[E7] those so dearly [A]held

[D]And stood ag[A]ainst him

Proud Edward's [D]army

And [A]sent him homeward

Tae [E7]think a[A]gain

Those [A]days are passed now

And in the [E7]past they must re[A]main

But [D]we can still [A]rise now

And [E7]be the nation a[A]gain

[D]That stood a[A]gainst him

Proud Edward's [D]army

Tae [E7]think a[A]gain Repeat Chorus
